

January 11, 2008 – McLean, VA. The McLean Citizens Foundation (MCF) is accepting applications for its winter grant cycle. Local non-profit groups with worthy project proposals that benefit the community can find the application form, the grants policy, and instructions at the MCF Web site – www.mcleancitizensfoundation.org.

The Foundation is the charitable arm of the McLean Citizens Association and provides grants for environmental, educational, arts, social services, and other projects that actively serve the citizens of greater McLean. The Foundation has been funding grants for more than 25 years, helping other non-profits help our community.

Grant applications should be sent to MCF at PO Box 75, McLean, VA 22101 and must be postmarked no later than February 1. The Board of Trustees meets in February to evaluate each proposal and notifies applicants of its decisions by the end of February.
